

Beauty Point: A Destination for the Positive Impact Traveller

Tucked where the Kanamaluka / Tamar River meets the sea, Beauty Point is a town shaped by water. In sharing this place and its surrounds, we acknowledge and pay respects to the Leterremairrener and Pangerninghe Aboriginal people, the Traditional Custodians of the land and seas. Their enduring connection to this estuary reminds us that the journey is as meaningful as the destination.

It's a place where time slows, stories deepen. For over 150 years, the wharf has shifted with the tides, its fortunes rising and falling, its history becoming part of the town's fabric. This is a place for positive impact travellers who seek sustainability, authenticity and real connection.

The river has done more than shape the land. It has carved out a rhythm of life. As you follow the Tamar Valley Wine Route, perhaps in a low-impact electric vehicle, vineyards and farm gates appear like gentle invitations to pause. This is a region proud to play a significant part of the UNESCO designation for Launceston - City of Gastronomy, where food and wine reflect a strong sense of place. For those who identify as gourmet foodies, this provides a perfect opportunity to embrace slow food and provenance. Before exploring further, visitors can gather seasonal provisions directly from local growers like York Town Organics, Tasmania's premier organic market garden. By supporting sustainable, small-scale farming initiatives, you can taste the true flavour of the region while ensuring your spending directly benefits the community. The air carries the scent of salt and the promise of discovery.

Maritime heritage runs deep here. You can hear it in the quiet of the Village and feel it in the presence of the Commercial Diving Academy, Australian Maritime College and Port Dalrymple Yacht Club, where marine skills are still taught and practised. These are living stories of resilience, craftsmanship and passionate pursuits of the sea – delve a bit deeper and stop for a chat with maritime students at the Waterfront Hotel.

The seasons shape life in Beauty Point, sometimes generously, sometimes with challenges. Yet they always offer something nourishing. We especially invite you to embrace the quiet magic of the Off Season. Visiting during the colder months delivers a refreshing Tasmanian "winter that wakes you up". By choosing to travel outside of peak school holidays, you actively support our local operators year-round while enjoying a more intimate, uncrowded connection to the landscape. From cool-climate wines to fresh local produce, the land rewards those who pay attention. Stay at Wington's Glamping in a luxurious safari tent beside the river or sip a wine at nearby wineries while reflecting on what sustainable viticulture truly means. If you prefer to step back in time, find comfort in quaint, heritage-style studio accommodations that bring the nostalgia of Beauty Point to life, offering a peaceful retreat no matter where you choose to stay.

Wildlife is everywhere, above and below the surface. At Seahorse World, meet the most clinging yet delicate marine creatures and learn about efforts to protect endangered Handfish—now a successful breeding program returning the species to the wild. Platypus House offers a rare magical glimpse into the quiet lives of monotremes. Venture out to Narawntapu National Park, where you may spot wombats and Tasmanian devils in the wild.

This is a town shaped by its past and inspired by its future. At the Sculptured Gallery, admire handcrafted works made from local timber. Support conservation efforts, meet the people behind what's grown and crafted, and contribute to a local culture that values care for the land, the sea, and one another.

Beauty Point draws in travellers, not tourists, those who are thoughtful, curious, and eager to leave a light footprint while gaining a deeper connection to the places they visit. You won't just pass through. You'll become part of the story.

Take your time.

Let the road bring you here.

Maybe you'll stay for a while.

Maybe you'll carry something of Beauty Point with you long after you leave, a memory, a flavour, a feeling.
